RED DEER WIN FIRST LEAGUE GAME

The Central Alberta Baseball League opened with a bang on May 24th, when Red Deer repeated their performance of last year by defeating the Ponoka nine 7-6 in a hard-fought contest. With their respective batteries working in a season form, the teams kept the fans on their toes until the last ball hit the bat in the 9th which was easily grabbed up by Nelson at third for Red Deer. Heavy hitting featured the game. Both teams collected 9 safe hits off the opposing pitchers. Likewise 6 errors were committed to the scoring column for each side.

Ponoka opened the scoring in the 4th frame when Bures hit safely, went to first on a base hit, and then scored on a sacrifice fly. Red Deer answered in the 5th inning when Hamby hit safely, went to first on a base hit, and then scored on a sacrifice fly. Red Deer answered in the 5th inning when Hamby hit safely, went to first on a base hit, and then scored on a sacrifice fly.

Red Deer overtook their opponents and advanced two more in the 5th inning. Malcolm hit safely, went to first on a base hit, and then scored on a sacrifice fly. Red Deer answered in the 5th inning when Hamby hit safely, went to first on a base hit, and then scored on a sacrifice fly.

Red Deer scored again in the 8th. Osterlund got a life on a fielder's choice and again romped home when Russell failed to grab Malcolm's hot grounder.

In the eighth frame Ponoka evened again. Three safe hits by Wacklin, Hamby and Stoddard, followed by Geo. Reddy's inability to stop Stoddard's single from becoming a three-bagger, almost spoiled disaster for Red Deer.

Umpire Hoffman, new to the local fans, kept the game well in hand. Although the umpire was new to the double-umpire system, Ponoka failed to bring their local man, but showed good sportsmanship in their willingness to adhere to all the home umpire's rulings.

RED DEER HUNT CLUB PICNIC

The Hunt Club held its most enjoyable picnic at the east bridge on the 24th. Those riding horses left town about 10:30, and enjoyed the ride every inch of the way. Refreshments were brought out in cars, and the Boy Scout Orchestra played a fine going and the kettle soiled and soiled.

After lunch the mounted sports programme was started on. This included music, broncho busting by Fred Helmer and Jack Oust, Roman riding, stone runs (ladies and gentlemen), and concluded with the Uta Guts stake, in which the competitors rode each other home. All voted the picnic a success, and it was decided to hold another at a later date, when it is hoped more members will attend.

BLACKFALDS BREEZES
Celebration of Empire Day in Blackfalds consisted chiefly of three events—Maypole dance, baseball and basketball. The Maypole dance was staged by eighteen maid girls, was a great success. The girls were all dressed in white, and held the end of a coloured streamer which was attached to the Maypole. In their first dancing, six girls danced around the pole, winding as they went. The girls then danced around the pole, winding as they went. The girls then danced around the pole, winding as they went.

The baseball game between Bentley and Blackfalds was well attended, the game starting sharp at three o'clock. Bentley managed to make a get-away which the local boys could not overtake. The rest of the game the Blackfalds played the best of the game. The final score was 15 to 12 in favor of the visiting team. The second game was played in Blackfalds on Wednesday night, between the Sylva Lake and the home team. The final score was 14 to 1 in favor of the Sylva Lake team.

After the baseball the girls played school groups. The Red Deer girls showed themselves far superior to the home team, both in combination and shooting for the basket. A large crowd, however, gathered to watch the game, which was being practically the first outside team to visit Blackfalds.

After the game the ladies treated the girls to a supper of cake and cake in the Methodist Church.

Miss Beatrice Ford, of Bassano, is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Goodwin, of Blackfalds, for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Sorenson and two sons and sister, Miss Alice Sorenson, arrived in Red Deer on Friday to spend the 24th of May with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Miller.

Mrs. A. Lewis and brother, moved down from Edmonton on Saturday night, and will spend the week end with relatives at Blackfalds.

The C.G.T. girls of Blackfalds met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Trueman, Friday afternoon, May 23, with most of the members present. At the usual outline of programme, a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

BOARD OF TRADE

SECRETARY'S REPORT

(Crowded out last week)

The President and members, Board of Trade.

Gentlemen:

I submit report of work since last meeting.

1. Mr. Rodd, Chief Fishery Inspector for Alberta, was in town lately looking over the work of building the fish dam at Sylvan Lake, which the people there are doing. He is advised by the Department that there is still a chance of getting Sylvan Lake stocked with black bass, and they advise against putting pickled in a present. We have requested him to ascertain the cost of getting some black bass fry from the United States and will report later on this question.

2. Hon. Mr. Brownlee, Attorney-General, has agreed to address the next luncheon of the Board on June 15th. Mr. Hoffman has agreed to address a meeting to be arranged to suit his convenience, and Sir Henry Thornton and E. W. Beatty have promised to arrange addresses later if possible.

3. The Board of Trade of the Coast cities are arranging for a trip to the services city in September. On the instructions of your President, we have invited the party to stop over in Red Deer.

4. Pursuant to your instructions, on the request of Mr. Morrison, representing the residents of the territory, we have taken up with the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs the question of having that District removed from Crown Municipality and attached to the Pine Lake Municipality. Mr. Lamb, the Deputy Minister, is arranging to call a meeting of the two Councils at the new bridge in the near future to discuss this matter and the question of the road on this side of the bridge. We will continue our efforts on behalf of the residents of this territory if they wish.

5. We are informed by the bureau of the Ponoka Institution that the meat contract is let yearly and meat for the Red Deer Institution is shipped for Red Deer from Ponoka as required. He did not deem it advisable to change this policy. We are also informed by the superintendent of insurance that all the insurance of the above Institution is placed now through local agents.

6. We respectfully suggest that members of the Board visit the auto ramping ground as often as possible this summer and greet the campers there and give them what information they require. They will appreciate this service. We recommend that a small direction sign be placed on the south side of the road to the camp so travellers from the north can see it.

President Hogg asked Ralph Peterson, Manager of the Co-operative Marketing Association here, to give some figures as to the stock that has been shipped out of the district in the past year. Mr. Peterson gave some very interesting figures. He attributed the great increase in the amount of live stock shipped out to the development in the country west of Red Deer. From May, 1923, to December, 1923, the association shipped out 109 cars of hogs valued at $130,800.00, 18 cars of cattle valued at $18,800.00, and 7 cars of poultry valued at $6,800.00, the total value of the shipments made being $156,400.00. During the first four months of 1924 there were shipped out 97 cars of hogs valued at $116,400.00, 23 cars of cattle valued at $23,800.00, and 3 cars of poultry valued at $6,800.00, a total for the four months of $151,000.00, or nearly as much as in the previous eight months. Manager Peterson spoke briefly of the work of the association as well as the troubles and opposition they met. He said that they were getting nearly all the business in the district and that the majority of the farmers for whom they acted had expressed their great satisfaction. The handling of eggs was quite new, but he felt that it was more valuable as they became more very important and would become experienced.

M.D. OF GOLDEN WEST

At the meeting of the M.D. of Golden West Council on Saturday, J. M. Craig, of Evans, was appointed assessor at $500, and $4 a day for meeting. The Government grant for roads for 1924 is $1005. The bylaw for restraining animals running at large in Div. 2 was passed, and a new bylaw under the Domestic Animals Act for Div. 1 and 6 was sent to the Department for approval. The account for an Adams road under $100, passed. The Department of Municipal Affairs will be asked concerning the liability of the Red Deer Golf and Country Club for Wild Lands assessment on their 70 acres, against which the Club has appealed. Lacombe general hospital notified concerning the admission of Mrs. K. V. Learned on April 25, and Miss Emma Fastabak on April 29.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE

May 21, 1924. Now that "Sunshine Chautauque" is airing his little knowledge of past history we can look for that report of the B. T. dance held last February.

H. C. Young has purchased a car and let us hope he is careful how he steps on the gas.

We understand the R.C.D. have sold their location here to the B. Burns Co. and work will be commenced on the new creamery at an early date. We are sorry to hear that Mr. Durand has resigned the secretary-treasurer of the R.F. McLaren will be the secretary-treasurer.

The rain and snow of Saturday evening and Sunday morning certainly none too soon in assisting to put out the different forest fires and giving some needed moisture to the ground. Although one or two settlers on the river had a close call in saving their buildings, no one was burned out. The Garth school was also in the danger zone, but to the disgust of the small boys was saved. The buildings of David Spence escaped the flames by wet sacks being placed on the roofs.

We are sorry to report that Lorne Thorne of Lamoral, is a little under the weather.

Lou Smith has purchased the new stable of Walter Strong, on the corner of First St. East and Third Ave., and has moved into the village from Dovercourt, and we are pleased to learn that the new legislation will change the status of the bootlegger under the old regime. But it is certain that now he is merely a criminal and a lawbreaker who is trying to break down reasonable legislation demanded by the people who patronize the bootlegger in the province. Whatever may have been done before, any person who keeps a "dive" or a "hole" or helps him in his wrong doing, is not a good citizen. The police now can proceed to enforce this law with the full knowledge that they have the public behind them in their efforts.

If the bootlegger is run to earth and the violations of the Liquor Act kept down to a minimum, and drinking is not increased, the present law is better than those who voted for Clarence A. expected.

English Scientist Discovers "Death Ray"

London, May 26.—Dr. T. F. Wall, lecturer in electrical research in Sheffield University, claims to have discovered a "death ray." He has applied for a patent covering "means for transmitting electrical energy in any medium, whether of any kind or by any means, including the use of any form of electromagnetic transmission waves." Dr. Wall expressed the belief that his invention will enable him to stop the flight, stopping airplanes in flight, and bringing motor cars to a standstill, although he has not made tests on a large scale as yet.

BROOKSLEY BEAMS

May 24th. Mr. Fred Jacobson is on the sick list. Mr. L. O. Olafson was operated on last week for appendicitis and is making good progress. Mrs. George Hogg received word from England of the death of her mother. Mr. John Morton and family are planning to take a trip in their new car to Iowa, leaving about the beginning of June. Mr. Morton is at present looking several cars of oats. What has happened to "Saltwood Smiles"? Are they ploughed under?

Here and There

The annual statement of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the report which the company's president, E. W. Beatty, made to the annual meeting are matters of first rate interest, not only to the fast growing number of Canadian citizens who are part owners in the great railway, but also to all interested in Canadian progress and development. For the reason of the way in which the company's operations touch all phases of Canadian life and enterprise there can be no pronounced depression or prosperity in any part of the country without its reflection in the earnings of the Canadian Pacific. There is a barometer of the country's foreign trade also in the results of the operations of the company's steamships upon the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Thus there was considerable reason for gratification in the president's statement made at the annual meeting on May 7th, that the operations of the company had been conducted throughout 1923 in a satisfactory manner and with satisfactory results. Mr. Beatty pointed out that gross earnings for the year, which had totalled $105,857,088, were greater by $9,162,000 than those of 1922. Working expenses, however, increased by $7,084,000 to $105,888,000. This large increase in operating costs was due to large expenditures made upon the property in order that it might be kept to the highest possible physical standard and capable of rendering the best possible service to the community. As a result the property was never in a better condition as it is now. Net earnings for the year were $9,779,010, an increase of $1,777,000.

The total tonnage moved by the company during the year amounted to 2,858,000, an increase over that of the previous year of 3,108,408, to a heavier movement of grain, lumber, manufactured articles and general merchandise, the largest increase being in grain and livestock products. Mr. Beatty pointed out that this satisfactory condition had resulted from the fact that the company had increased over those of the same period last year by $1,263,814, to $2,858,000, an increase over that of the previous year of 3,108,408, to a heavier movement of grain, lumber, manufactured articles and general merchandise, the largest increase being in grain and livestock products. Mr. Beatty pointed out that this satisfactory condition had resulted from the fact that the company had increased over those of the same period last year by $1,263,814, to $2,858,000, an increase over that of the previous year of 3,108,408, to a heavier movement of grain, lumber, manufactured articles and general merchandise, the largest increase being in grain and livestock products.

Referring to the Government system of railways, Mr. Beatty said that the difference between it and the Canadian Pacific was largely in name only and in the accident of personnel of shareholders. The securities of both systems were owned by private investors throughout the world and there was a significant steady increase in both Canadian and British holdings of Canadian Pacific common stock. Two areas of the general railway situation called for criticism. Under a statute passed in 1919 the Government-owned lines may construct branches without approval as to location and other details by the Railway Commission. Thus they may parallel or duplicate existing lines of any other company on the Minister approves and parliament authorizes the expenditure. Mr. Beatty stated that in his opinion it would be in the same public interest to have the same approval in the case of private railways. The other phase was the result of the "New West Pass" agreement of 1927. It had established special statutory freight rates under conditions of operation which no longer existed. Differences in rates which would not be permitted under the general railway act because of their unfairness in relation to commodity rates on other articles and to the rates effective in other parts of Canada. The greatest advantage to shippers as a whole would be secured if all rates made subject to review and change as conditions warrant by the tribunal constituted for that purpose.

In referring to the outlook for the future, Mr. Beatty stated that while there was a noticeable lull in domestic and export shipments due to part to unsettledness in industrial districts, general business during the first quarter of the year had been satisfactory. The crop outlook would probably be about the same as last year, and generally speaking, soil conditions for grain crops were good. "If the total yield approaches that of 1923," said Mr. Beatty, "there will be no doubt a very satisfactory autumn business and a vastly improved psychological and financial situation throughout the whole country. There is no real ground for pessimism in respect of the future of either the company or the country, though an extraordinary and too rapid advance is neither to be expected nor desired."

SOUTH AFRICA AND SECESSION

It has been announced that there is to be a general election in South Africa in June next, and the issue of that election is both doubtful and serious. There are now three parties in South African politics, the South African party headed by General Smuts, which is now in power, the Nationalist party headed by General Hertzog, and the Labour party headed by Colonel Crosswell. The South African party was formed a few years ago by a fusion of the old Unionist party, which was the British party, and the moderate Dutch element, led by the late General Botha and General Smuts, which favoured the continued association of South Africa with the British Empire. The Nationalist party is more or less openly republican and favours secession from the British Empire.

It is almost wholly a Dutch party, and represents the old Boer elements who have never forgiven the South African war of 25 years ago. The Labour party is drawn mainly from the white mine workers. It is not so hostile to the Empire as the Nationalists, but has made a temporary alliance with them in order to defeat General Smuts. General Hertzog, who is not really a soldier but a lawyer, is said to be very clever and very bitter. Some South Africans say that he himself is not generally a republican in his sympathies but that he is an ambitious politician, and has simply taken up the cry of republicanism because he knows it is popular with large numbers of the Dutch. The Labour party has a deep grudge against General Smuts for his courageous and stern repression of the very dangerous "red" rising on the Rand two years ago. Many if not most of the revolutionaries on that occasion were Dutch, but the whites all sorts of mixed nationalities, while the men who crushed the revolt were mainly Dutch farmers, and this fact proves the artificial and temporary nature of the alliance between the Nationalist and Labour parties.

The Government majority in the Union Parliament has not been large and by the loss of recent by-elections it has been practically wiped out, which accounts for the coming election. If the Nationalists win the election, as they may do, the situation will be exceedingly serious. For the first time since the United States revolted from the Empire, there will be the possibility of an other great section of the Empire declaring its independence. The Nationalists attempt this, civil war will be very near at hand, for it is unlikely that the British element in South Africa will agree to leave the Empire without a struggle. Almost certainly the former colony of Natal, which is strongly British, will not secede. The crucial question will be the attitude of General Smuts himself. Will he take up arms to prevent the secession of South Africa from the Empire, as General Botha and he did at the outset of the great war, when one section of the Dutch under Beyers and De Wet rose in rebellion with German aid? What will Great Britain do if civil war breaks out? Will she send troops to support the loyalists, or will she say that the great Dominions have attained nationhood and must settle their own fate?

The question is of tremendous importance for all the other self-governing Dominions of the Empire, including ourselves. What is Canada to do if there is another war in South Africa? If the loyalists ask for help from us, is that help to be refused? It is too soon yet to know just how serious the crisis may really be, but it is already clear that its possibilities are incalculable, and that all who care for the Empire must watch anxiously the immediate course of events in South Africa.

ARMAMENTS AND PEOPLES

Of all the great nations of the world the United States at the present time maintains one of the smallest, if not the smallest, army. Its navy ranks along with that of Great Britain as one of the largest in the world, but the number of men serving in it is very small compared to the whole population of the country, and the same remark applies to its air service. The fighting services of the British Empire, though employing slightly more men than those of the United States, are very trifling in proportion to the territory and influence of the Empire. In both the British Empire and the United States, but particularly in the latter, there is the strongest possible aversion to anything resembling general military service. Both peoples are continually discussing plans for securing peace for themselves and the world in general. Anybody who ventures to say anything in defence of war or in praise of military glory is sure to provoke a widespread outcry of condemnation and protest. In fact two people more devoted to peace cannot be found in the world present or past, so far as outward professions go.

Consider the history of these two peace-loving nations. The United States has been built up by people originally coming from Great Britain who established themselves in North America against the wishes of the native inhabitants, the so-called Red Indians, and by a policy of continual aggression founded on nothing whatever but armed force. They have extended their sway over their present vast territories, driving out or reducing to vanishing insignificance the former owners of the land. Later they have, again by war, extended their dominion to include such islands as the Philippine Islands. In their Monroe doctrine they have issued a perpetual challenge not to interfere in the American continent. In the late great war they raised and sent overseas to Europe armies numbering millions. It is not without great risks to reduce armaments and try to establish a general spirit of international friendship, which may make even further reductions possible. At the same time it is recognized that this policy may fail, that international friendship cannot be established. Therefore it is necessary to keep the fighting forces thoroughly efficient in quality if reduced in numbers, to continue the study of the modern methods of war, the newest weapons of war, to perfect organization, and make plans for expansion in numbers if that should become necessary. By so doing money can be saved without exposing the country and the Empire to undue danger, and a really sincere effort can be made to introduce among the nations of the world a spirit of peace and justice, which will make war, not impossible, but at least less likely.

That is a good and wise policy. It faces the facts of human nature as it is now, and at the same time aims at the ideal of peace and justice as things to be aimed at and sought for constantly in spite of every disappointment and failure. It is a policy of hope and not of despair, and the world as it now is, needs all of hope that it can find. It is a policy which represents a great advance on the former Labour policy of impracticable, rather hypocritical sentimentalism. If the leaders of the government can control their extreme supporters on other points, this policy of sane and hopeful seeking after peace may prove to be one which will bring not only credit to the Labour Party of Great Britain, but much blessing to a troubled world.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Alberta is said to have more gold courses than any province in the Dominion, which led to their expansion. It was necessary for the spread of beneficent civilization in various parts of the world, whereas the wars which they now wish to prevent are wars arising only from jealousy, greed and unjustifiable mutual hatreds. Such a belief may be sincere enough, but it is a dangerous one for any nation to entertain, and it is calculated to arouse a contemptuous and incredulous irritation amongst other peoples who have not been able to effect such an expansion of territory and power.

Is not the popular attitude of these two great nations towards the questions of war and armaments based mainly on ignorance and thoughtlessness, ignorance of their own history, thoughtlessness as to the lessons to be drawn from it? Would it not be a more honest attitude to adopt to say frankly that until the world is perfect, until all wrongs are righted, all injustices vanquished, all oppression done away with, all greed and every forgery, war may always be possible and sometimes necessary, and because of that fact no great nation can rightly neglect all preparation for war or allow its citizens to enjoy the blessings of peace and civilization and yet refuse to take their share, if need be, in defending them with their lives even? Hypocrisy, conscious or unconscious, national or individual, is an ugly and unhealthy thing. In this matter it is to be feared there is much hypocrisy abroad at present. Some honest thinking and speaking is needed to get rid of it.

THE BRITISH LABOUR GOVERNMENT AND ARMAMENTS

It is improbable that the Labour Party in Great Britain really expected to come into power for some years. The protection election of last December and its indefinite result took them by surprise. Up till then they had been content to indulge in merely destructive, not to say abusive, criticism of their opponents, and to suggest measures for the benefit of the working classes, which they really knew were more or less impracticable. Armaments and international war were their pet abomination. It was in their view perfectly right to preach class war at home, to use force or the threat of force against non-unionist workers in England, or political opponents generally, to express approval of a bloody tyranny like the Soviet government of Russia merely because it called itself a proletarian government and had destroyed the old nobility of Russia. On the other hand they declared that any war between nations was merely wicked and always inexcusable, and that all armaments were really unnecessary.

Then suddenly they found themselves in power, and responsible for the greater part of the British Empire. Their leaders are capable men, whatever their views may be, and they realized at once that there could be no question of abolishing the army, navy and air force, and trusting to vague suggestions of good-will towards all men. At first they were obviously puzzled how to reconcile their own statements before they came into power with the practical necessities of the case. There were some very clever statesmen, almost absurd, speeches made by members of the government such as the first speech made by Mr. Leach, the Under-Secretary for Air.

Gradually, however, a policy seems to be emerging, and it is really hoped to and honestly carried out. It is likely to command a great deal of approval from impartial people all over the Empire. That policy appears to be somewhat as follows:

For the moment the British Empire is reasonably safe from the possibility of any attack. Therefore it is possible without great risks to reduce armaments and try to establish a general spirit of international friendship, which may make even further reductions possible. At the same time it is recognized that this policy may fail, that international friendship cannot be established. Therefore it is necessary to keep the fighting forces thoroughly efficient in quality if reduced in numbers, to continue the study of the modern methods of war, the newest weapons of war, to perfect organization, and make plans for expansion in numbers if that should become necessary. By so doing money can be saved without exposing the country and the Empire to undue danger, and a really sincere effort can be made to introduce among the nations of the world a spirit of peace and justice, which will make war, not impossible, but at least less likely.

That is a good and wise policy. It faces the facts of human nature as it is now, and at the same time aims at the ideal of peace and justice as things to be aimed at and sought for constantly in spite of every disappointment and failure. It is a policy of hope and not of despair, and the world as it now is, needs all of hope that it can find. It is a policy which represents a great advance on the former Labour policy of impracticable, rather hypocritical sentimentalism. If the leaders of the government can control their extreme supporters on other points, this policy of sane and hopeful seeking after peace may prove to be one which will bring not only credit to the Labour Party of Great Britain, but much blessing to a troubled world.

convenience and forms of entertainment and recreation only so far as the possession of them does not cause people to live above their means and to neglect the payment of their just debts.

Mr. A. P. Olsen, writing from B.C., where doubtless he feels he need no longer worry over the trials of the dairyman or farmer, advocates the free importation and use of oleomargarine. He states that it is as good or better than butter. It is a pity that Mr. Olsen was not young enough to serve in the army and to be obliged to eat oleomargarine.

It will be a great pity, and in our opinion also a great mistake, if the Calgary Brewing & Malting Company, in addition to the Alberta Hotel, do not build the full depth of the lot, double the present capacity and make the rooms fully modern.

According to information given in the House, Rev. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) was paid over $17,000.00 for his services as Chaplain during the war. A great part of the time he was addressing patriotic meetings in Canada and the United States. The average man who risked his life in the front line trenches will probably think that Gordon got a very poor salary for such a risky job.

Harold Lloyd produced "Why Worry?" before he was married. A few days ago Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd became the proud parents of a daughter. It is a safe bet that he knows the answer to the above query now.

The baseball season got off to a start on Saturday. The first game with Ponoka was good, the second not so good. Red Deer won both games but from the point of view of gate receipts it would have been better business to have lost more exciting contests.

HALF MAST FLAGS FOR DR. CREIGHTON

Stettler, Red Willow and Botha Moun

Death of Popular Physician

Stettler, Alta., May 24.—The funeral of the late Dr. Creighton was held in the Methodist church at 2:30 yesterday, and the high esteem in which he was held in the district was shown by the large number who attended the funeral, the streets being lined with cars and rigs. The people from his old district of Red Willow and Botha practically all attended, and from all directions they drove in. Flags were at half mast and all business places were closed during the service. Revs. Messrs. Lyle and Edmondson, and Stettler's five doctors, Staples, Callbeck, Connolly, Goodhand and Kennedy, the doctors who had followed the remains to the Stettler cemetery and the floral wreaths were so numerous that it was found that it was necessary to use a truck to carry them to the place. The pallbearers were all doctors: Dr. Allen, Edmondson, and Stettler's five doctors, Staples, Callbeck, Connolly, Goodhand and Kennedy. The doctor was not 55 years of age and died very suddenly in bed without warning, from the bursting of a blood vessel in the head after retiring at night in good health. He came from a large and prominent family and leaves a wife Ruth Miller, heroine of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame"; George Fawcett, in his greatest character role, and Matt Moore.

The late doctor came to Red Willow in 1907 here there was a railway in that district and in 1910 he moved to Stettler. That year he ran on the Conservative ticket against Robert Shaw. He was a very quiet, retiring disposition and a slave to his profession, never refusing a call, regardless of the weather, fighting blizzards and storms of all kinds, especially in the early days when there were no roads or fences to guide him. He was always in demand and never left his patients long enough to take a holiday; but went on long drives on many occasions when he was completely worn out.

There probably never has been a man in this district who was any wider known or who utterly disregarded his own welfare as much as the late doctor did in order to serve the people, and his memory will always be fresh in the minds of the people of this district who only too keenly feel that they have lost a friend whose place can never be filled.

Gossard Accessories

Not a Corset; not a Brassiere—a combination garment that makes the figure more beautiful. The women of fashion, as well as all practical women of today, are thinking more and more of their comfort in connection with style.

This is a unique invention, alone in its class: the only garment which can easily be put on and assures a perfect connection between the corset and the brassiere. It is a one-piece garment which overcomes all present annoyances of the separate corset and brassiere.

There is no pulling up, no flesh to protrude, no restraint where restraint should not exist, and above all there is support where the flesh is flabby.

There are two models—
1805—made of fancy batiste, elastic section over hip, two sets of hose supporters, hooks in back.

2446—Quite long with small bones across the front, elastic at sides, two sets of hose supporters; fastens at the side.

CHILDREN'S WAISTS are made of firm strong material that will wear well and save many hours of mending; tailored as to insure perfect comfort to the chest and under arms; sizes 2 to 14 years.

GOSSARD BRASSIERES, like Gossard Corsets, are designed for every type of figure with a practical understanding of its needs. Each brassiere is made sufficiently long to complete the present type of low top corsets. More hooks and eyes are used at the openings than on any other make, thus insuring an unusually smooth fastening; and to these advantages are added exquisite and unusual materials, and that faultless workmanship that is the certain brand of true quality.

829—This Longerlyne model is designed for average or full figure; cut extra long, reinforced diaphragm piece with elastic sections at sides.

425—Fancy Bastiste, with short shaped front, hooked in the back.

421—Longerlyne, Pink bandeau Brassiere for average figure, cut extra long, wide bands of elastic at waist line; hooks in back, specially shaped in front.

435—A Brassiere for the average figure, boned in back; it is fastened in the front which is shaped and cut longer.

1550—A special Brassiere for large figures; double band across the front, elastic at hips, and tapering to long points in the back, with two hose supporters.

EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Calgary, May 22nd.

Cattle—Best—Quality lacking in steers offered at Calgary and quotations are down, with the best heavy $8 to $8.25; best light, $5.75 to $6; good, $5.25 to $5.75; medium, $4 to $5; common, $2.50 to $3.50. Choice females selling freely with heifers at $5 to $8; good, $4 to $4.75. Choice cows, $4.25 to $5; good, $3.75 to $4.25; medium, $3 to $3.75; common, $2 to $2.75; canners, $1 to $1.75. Choice bulls, $2 to $2.75; others, $1 to $1.75. Choice veal calves up to $7.50; common heavy, $2.50 to $4.50. Feeders, Stockers—Choice short keep steers up to $5 and others down to $4; stockers, $3 to $4.25. Stock heifers, $2 to $4; cull cows from $2.75 down.

Beef—Edmonton market a little slower this week and choice finished females best sellers. Choice export steers, $6.25 to $6.75; choice light, $6 to $6.50; good, $5.50 to $6; medium, $4.50 to $5.25; common down to $3. Choice heifers, $5.25 to $5.75; good from $5 down. Choice cows, $4.25 to $4.75; good, $3.75 to $4.25; medium, $3 to $3.50; common, $2.50 to $3; canners, $2.25 to $2. Choice bulls up to $2.50 with the plain ones from $1.25 to $2. Choice calves, veal, $7 to $8; common heavy, $2 to $2.50. Feeders, Stockers—Really choice feeders are the easy sellers around $5, but common ones, which go down to $4, are not in much demand; the choice stocker steers will make up to $4.50, but most of them around $4. There is a good demand for stock heifers which sell at $2.50 to $3. Stock cows easier at around $1.50 to $2.

Hogs—Calgary's receipts have not been heavy, and since the slump during last week sales have been generally at $5.55, thick smooths, off cars, with 10 percent premium on the bacon.

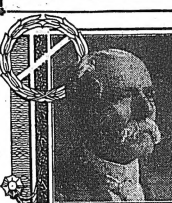

Edmonton market has been lower in line with other points since last report and the sales have been generally at $5.55, thick smooths, weighed off cars and the usual premium for bacon type.

Sheep—Sheep are not coming on the markets now and the Calgary and Edmonton quotations are nominally based on the previous sales at $12 to $13.25; yearlings, $9 to $12; fat ewes, $8 to $8.

Grain—Continued improvement is shown in the grain markets and all prices are up, and the latest drop from the market reports is that it is likely to hold good for the balance of the present crop. Canada has now, according to the latest report, about 50,000,000 bushels of wheat to be marketed and with the European and American demand this should be easily taken care of. This is very encouraging news to the western farmers who are just getting their crop in. Most of the Alberta wheat will be sown this week, and the earlier seeded fields are coming along nicely. Moisture conditions as a rule are favorable. The coarse grains and fodder crops are now getting attention.

Butterfat—Butter—Cheese—Butterfat—No change in prices since last week's revision, with specials at Alberta centralizer creameries based on 29c; country creameries, 27c; production increasing and producers expect to be at the peak in another couple of weeks. Creamery Butter—Prints and cartons unchanged at 34c for No. 1; No. 4, 4c under. No. 10 movement light now, as creameries are not rushing stocks on market that at present overclouded. Last sale noted was for to Winnipeg at 27c, and prices from that to 28c are probably current. Vancouver market inquiries, but not bidding; Montreal market much better and little improvement in world market shipping worth while. Dairy Butter—Not much movement and demand only for choice quality. Cheese—Milk but firm; eastern prices better. Milk—Calgary distributors now paying $2.

Crimean Veteran Praises "Fruit-a-tives"

MAJOR GEO. WALKER
Major Geo. Walker, now a familiar figure in Chatham, Ontario, is one of the men who went through the terrible Indian Mutiny. As he says: "I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, serving under Lord Roberts. I have hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure to great suffering from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk. My bow was so contorted that I was in terrible shape until I began to use 'Fruit-a-tives'. They relieved me both of the Rheumatism and the Constipation. Today, I enjoy perfect health—no more Rheumatism or Constipation. And in another letter, written December 1st, 1923 (eleven years after), Major Walker says: 'Fruit-a-tives' are keeping me in the best of health and I shall never be without them.' 'Fruit-a-tives' are the famous Fruit Treatment—intensive fruit juices combined with tonic—that make you well and keep you well. 25c and 50c at all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Eggs—Poultry—Eggs—All grades advanced 1c at Calgary and Edmonton this week and extras now 18c; No. 1, 17c; No. 2, 13c; and cracked 8c to 10c; fresh market, 14c to 16c, but very large proportion of No. 2, showing evidence of being held some time before shipment.

Shipments of live birds light. Dressed deliveries by farmers to butcher shops and markets are showing a decline; heavy cuts made on starchy chickens, now quoted down to 15c; choice fowl up to 21c.

Hay—Scarcely any market; only orders are for few cars of timothy or choice alfalfa.

Potatoes—Not much movement just now; Canadian output is around 135, Canada A grade; grading is close.

Hides—Market quiet and dealers not inclined to make sales at present low bids from tanners; hope for market improvement later, but present buying prices unchanged.

Furs—Prices unchanged and the buying at the Winnipeg auction was encouraging, except on coyotes, which were lower, but there are few of them moving now.

NEW WEED CONTROL POLICY
Details of the new policy for the control and eradication of weeds in the province, which was decided upon by Hon. George Hadley, Minister of Agriculture, before going overseas were elaborated at a conference held on May 10 of the new advisory board on weed policy, with Hon. G. Hadley, acting Minister of Agriculture, as chairman. Those present were Earl Cook, M.L.A. for Pinard Creek; V. H. Shields, M.L.A. for Macleod; P. Bransmead, M.L.A. for Alexandria; and W. E. Fairfield, Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Lethbridge, together with officials of the Department of Agriculture.

The new policy, as advocated by the Minister of Agriculture, will emphasize the educational phase of eradication rather than punishment, for non-destruction of weeds. Field supervisors have been appointed, who will take the place of the old system of weed inspectors. These supervisors will work in close co-ordination with the agricultural representatives and the principals of the agricultural schools, in order that the local conditions of their various districts may be more thoroughly mastered with respect to weed control. They will also, rather than adopt policing methods, work in an advisory capacity to farmers, municipal councils and municipal weed inspectors as to the best methods of cultivation, and weed eradication.

Before commencing their field work, the new field supervisors will hold conferences with the agricultural representatives and principals of the agricultural schools on features of the new work. It is also the plan that the supervisors shall arrange meetings among the farmers for educational purposes.

The weeds which will be concentrated upon are the perennial sow thistle, Canada thistle, stink weed, blue lotus, wild oats and wild mustard, but attention will be paid in every district to the weed problems peculiar to the district. It is planned to have posters printed, with colored plates of these weeds, for distribution among the rural schools, to municipal councils and other authorities who are interested in the control of these weeds.

The new supervisors will be under the direct supervision of W. J. Stephen, Field Crops Commissioner, who will administer the new policy. Methods of cultivation, crop rotations, etc., will be emphasized at the meetings among farmers.

The districts and their supervisors are as follows:
District 1—From range 1 to 16, and township 1 to the Old Man River—W. A. Anderson, Registrar.
District 2—Range 16 to 25 and District 11—Range 1 to 13, township 35 to 47—H. B. Craig, Namaka.

District 12—Range 13 westward, township 40 to 49—T. H. Taylor, Vermilion.
District 13—Range 13 westward, township 49 northward—Joseph Bonner, foreman seed cleaning plant, Edmonton.
District 14—Range 1 to 13, township 53 north—C. S. Smith, Edmonton.

To outline details of the new work a series of conferences is to be held as follows:
Lethbridge, June 3, with W. J. Stephen, Field Crops Commissioner; M. L. Freng, District Representative at Lethbridge; James Murray, Agricultural Representative, Medicine Hat; O. S. Longman, Raymond; J. C. Hooper, Claresholm, and the southern weed supervisors.
Olds, June 3, with W. J. Stephen, F. S. Grisdale, Principal, Olds Agricultural School, and the supervisors of the central district.
Government Buildings, June 4, with W. J. Stephen, H. W. Scott, Agricultural Representative, Sedgewick; F. H. Newcombe, Agricultural Representative, Vegreville, and the northern supervisors.
At each of these conferences, S. G. Carlyn, Livestock Commissioner, will also be present.

Ben Turpin, famous comedian, actor, and the star, Anne Heston now in course of erection. YESS! Ben Turpin is permanently cross-eyed, though his feet are not the monstrosities they appear when made up for the screen. Quebecers who discovered this when he and Mrs. Turpin stayed at the Chateau Frontenac recently were also surprised to find them a most retiring, modest, quietly dressed and devoted couple, quite unlike the movie people one imagines.

The manner in which Mr. Turpin has risen supremely over the handicap of those famous eyes is an example of the courageous turning of an impediment to good account. "I love serious acting," said Mr. Turpin when interviewed on the Canadian Pacific en route to Montreal, "and long to play tragic roles, but, of course, I haven't the looks. So I do the next best thing—I make people laugh. Moreover, it's a pretty hard job being funny all the time. Often I feel more like crying. But I've got to make 'em laugh or my head will be chopped off."

Ben is an American of old stock but Mrs. Turpin is a French Canadian. Hence this was not by any means the first visit of the comedian and his wife to Quebec, but the trip on this recent occasion was somewhat in the nature of a pilgrimage from Los Angeles to the Shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre.

St. Anne de Beaupre will again this year, be the Mecca of thousands of pilgrimages. The new Basilica, work on which is being hurried as much as possible will not be ready for occupation for some two or three years yet, but the little wooden church which, since fire destroyed the old Basilica, has housed the shrine, is serving a useful purpose and this summer will no doubt see many antics and crutches added to the pile within its doors.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

From The News, May 26, 1909.

The Gazette Valley correspondent wrote of the great number of snakes on what was called Snake Hill, making the spot a favorite one for the ladies.

The city called for tenders for the construction of an addition to the Fire Hall.

WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

Issued by Publicity Commissioner, Government Buildings, Edmonton.

Work of District Agriculturists
Interesting features of the work of the District Agriculturists are mentioned in the monthly reports of these representatives for the month of April received at the Department of Agriculture.

One of the chief features of the reports is the great interest being shown in pig club work. This particular work is under the supervision of L. T. Chapman of the department, and is particularly active in the Vegreville, Sedgewick, Olds, Grande Prairie and Sturgeon districts, central part of the province, and in the Lethbridge district in the south.

M. L. Freng, representative at Lethbridge, speaks of having 53 members for his pig club, and 28 members feeding calves for the baby beef contest at the Lethbridge Fair. Mr. Freng also tells of his work in assisting irrigation farmers in the new irrigation district to get under way, and also states that he expects about 5,000 acres will be prepared for sugar beets next year in his territory.

James Murray, representative at Medicine Hat, is concentrating on work in connection with the growing area under corn and sweet clover, and states that several new varieties of corn will be tried out this year. Several varieties of field beans are also being tested. Mr. Murray is having the ground work for the first corn show to be held in Medicine Hat next fall.

F. H. Macdonald, recently appointed representative at Vegreville, finds the interest in pig clubs very keen at that point. Hostels calves and beef calves have been brought for the dairy and beef clubs respectively and about 35 grade Yorkshires for the pig club.

R. E. Judson, newly appointed representative at Grande Prairie and Peace River, is also getting the pig club work organized in his territory and will have at least one strong club going this fall.

H. W. Scott, at Sedgewick, also speaks of the interest in pig club work, and mentions particularly the success the farmers of his territory have had in the winter feeding of steers, the net profit ranging from $5 to $15 a head. Mr. Scott says that the creamery at Sedgewick expects to make about 200,000 lbs. of butter this season.

All the representatives speak of the growing interest in school fair work in the province.

Alberta Steers for Scotland

A shipment of 250 head of wintered steers, the first of a lot of more than 400 that will be forwarded, left the Edmonton stock yards the past week consigned to a Scottish livestock firm at Glasgow. The steers were all purchased as feeders last fall in the Edmonton district and fed in the stock yards at Edmonton. They comprise some of the highest class beef cattle that have ever left Central Alberta. The firm handling the shipment expects to ship altogether 1,000 head, some of which have been purchased in Southern Alberta. The steers were fed ordinary feed obtainable in the Edmonton district, and made remarkable gains in weight. They average now about 1,400 lbs.

New Zealanders Interested

Members of a committee of New Zealand dairymen who are making a world tour investigating dairying conditions in various countries, were visitors to Alberta this past week, and interviewed C. P. Marker, Dairy Commissioner. They were keenly interested in Alberta dairy conditions.

More Stock for E. P. Ranch

Among those present will be Sir John Thompson Walker, of London, England, noted urologist, and Prof. Lyle Cummins, of Cardiff, Wales, specialist in tuberculosis.

British Capital for Alberta

Negotiations are now going forward in two large deals which are likely to bring a considerable amount of British capital to Alberta for investment. For some time Spillers, the large mill in the province, has been negotiating for the investment of a large sum in the grain business of the province. The terms have been made known offer for control of the Alberta Flour Mills Company of Calgary, and a large sum of capital to be invested in the large flour mill now in course of erection there. The firm is also interested in the purchase of a string of elevators through the province, and is also preparing to erect a large terminal elevator at Vancouver to handle western grain.

The other deal involves extensive Alberta coal properties, and is being negotiated in behalf of British capital by Capt. Henry Davies, O. B. E., of Cardiff, Wales.

PETER SMITH TO FACE TRIAL ON TEN CHARGES

Former Provincial Treasurer of Ontario Committed for Trial.

Toronto, May 23.—Despite the heated assertion of H. S. Dewar, K.C., defence counsel, that to commit Peter Smith for trial on the evidence submitted would be a greater crime than that of the offences alleged against him, Magistrate J. B. Jones, in the police court yesterday afternoon committed the former provincial treasurer of Ontario on ten charges which the crown had laid against him. The crown submitted only the barest skeleton of a case, but it was sufficient for the magistrate, who refused to dismiss the charges of accepting commissions, on which the accused had elected trial by magistrate. On the other charges, counsel for Mr. Smith had elected to go to the jury.

Mr. Smith was bound over at six o'clock yesterday evening to the next general sessions or sittings of the supreme court, which means he will not stand trial until the fall.

These charges, which will be placed before the grand jury at the fall assizes, are:

- 1.—Conspiracy with J. Cooper Mason and others unknown to defraud the public and the Home Bank of Canada.
- 2.—Conspiracy with Messrs. Papell and Aemilius Jarvis, Sr., Aemilius Jarvis, Jr., to defraud the public and affect the price of provincial bonds.
- 3.—Conspiracy whereby secret influence used in breach of trust in procuring sale of certain bonds to Messrs. Jarvis and Papell, and the purchase of certain other bonds for money.
- 4.—Conspiracy with J. Cooper Mason in consideration of sums of money to improperly secure provincial funds for deposit.
- 5.—Conspiracy with J. Cooper Mason to improperly secure certain sums for the Home Bank.
- 6.—Conspiracy with J. Cooper Mason in contravention of the secret commissions act.
- 7.—Conspiracy to obtain gifts from J. Cooper Mason and the Home Bank for forebearing to show disfavor.
- 8.—Conspiracy to obtain from Messrs. Jarvis and Papell for forebearing to show disfavor.
- 9.—Conspiracy with J. Cooper Mason, Aemilius Jarvis, Sr., and Aemilius Jarvis, Jr., accompanied by R. H. Grier, K.C., their counsel, and C. H. Papell, accompanied by his counsel, G. Slaughter, K.C., to appear to surrender to their bail bond, but on the understanding with the crown that the preliminary hearing of the charges against them would not be reached yesterday afternoon. A renewal of bail was secured until 10:30 o'clock this morning.

THE HAUGHTY SNAIL

A humble little caterpillar, feeling lonely, wished to have a chat with a snail.

"Mr. Snail," said she, "it is a fine day, the air is pure, the breeze is cool. Let us take a little stroll together."

"Bah!" said the snail. "What impertinence! A vulgar caterpillar wishing to have a stroll with me!"

"But," said the caterpillar gently, "it is not so ridiculous, and it is certainly not an impertinence. We creep along the ground, and it seems to me that we must both belong to the same family."

"The same family!" exclaimed the snail. "Who has ever heard of such impertinence. Go away, you vulgar caterpillar; go and stroll by yourself! I have other friends in higher places."

And he went away, wagging his horns furiously.

The poor caterpillar went away very sad, and lonelier than ever. She strolled alone, as the snail would have nothing to do with her. Yet a little later, she again met the snail, holding an animated conversation with a beautiful butterfly.

"I told the snail to the butterfly," said the caterpillar. "See this horrible caterpillar! She has the impertinence to think that she is a friend of the same family! It is ridiculous!"

"Indeed," said the butterfly disdainfully, "it is ridiculous to suppose that a vulgar snail is of the same family as a caterpillar. For the caterpillar is of the same family as butterflies."

"You don't say so!" said the snail, and he turned to the caterpillar and headed into his little house and stayed there the rest of the day.

Twenty Thousand Dollar Baby Christened

THERE was a christening at the Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal, recently, and, quite apropos, it was of the Montreal. The Canadian Pacific, having on hand a very fine model of their Atlantic steamer, the Empress of Britain, placed it in drydock in Montreal about the same time that the Empress herself went into dock in the Old Country for overhauling and renaming. Upon being overhauled, the model was sent to the Mount Royal Hotel where it will remain on exhibition and where Mr. Vernon G. Carby, general manager of the hotel, "cracked" a bottle of champagne over the bow, thus christening the Montreal as she moved to her new berth.

The model of the Montreal is complete in every particular and is indeed such an excellent replica on a small scale of the former Empress that it has been insured for $20,000. The model is fourteen feet in length and provides a deal of entertainment for the visitor whether adult or juvenile.

CANADA'S NATIONAL PLAYGROUND

CANADIANS are fortunate in their National Parks, in that they have within their borders Alpine scenery which is not equaled anywhere on the continent, and more and more they are realizing that holidays in Canada hold for the lover of out-of-doors all the thrills that could be found anywhere in the world. Jasper National Park in the Canadian Rockies, contains many high peaks, eternally snowcapped, and on the sides of the mountains are glaciers which have stood the test of ages. Millions of tons of ice, stretching in some instances, almost as far as the eye can see, lure the adventurous climber to new attempts, while in the calm, peaceful valleys will game of all kinds live in peace with mankind and the world.

Additional bungalows for the accommodation of guests are to be erected at Jasper Park Lodge, the log-cabin hostelry of the Canadian National Railways at Jasper National Park, in time for the opening of the 1924 season, it is announced by officials of the Hotel Department, Canadian National Railways. During last season the popularity of Jasper National Park was so great that the capacity of Jasper Park Lodge was taxed, and the additional bungalows being provided this year will take care of almost fifty per cent. more guests.

Four 4-room bungalows, each room with bath, and two 12-room bungalows, each room also having private bath, are being erected. In addition, a double-deck bathhouse, with the upper floor for conventions, and dancing, is being constructed, and an octagonal curio building is being built near the main Lodge. Four new buildings are being erected to serve as employees' quarters, the kitchens are being extended, and the main lounge is being extended to provide for a ladies' reception room, and a men's billiard and card room.
